

Milkweed

Monarch
butterflies
feed off of this!

Milkweed is a troublesome
weed, not a
noxious weed!

Stems contain a milky juice, while the flowers are a rose to white color curving
downward and the flower hoods are horn-like.
Milkweed typically grows in
rangelands, roadsides,
cultivated fields.
